Board of Supervisors

"The Board of Supervisors of the city and county of New York was created in 1787, by the act passed March 21. The board was composed of the mayor, recorder and aldermen, and its functions were largely the supervision of taxes. The act of March 21, 1787, continued in force until the passage of the act of April 9, 1813, by which the supervisors of New York county were vested with the same general powers as the supervisors of other counties; amended by acts of April 23, 1823, April 6, 1825, April 20, 1830, and 1833. By the act of April 15, 1857, the mayor and recorder ceased to be members of the Board of Supervisors. The board by this act was reduced to twelve members elected by popular vote; amended by act of April 17, 1858.

"By act of April 30, 1874, the powers and duties of the Board of Supervisors were transferred to the Board of Aldermen. The duty to estimate and apportion taxes was by the laws of 1873 (sec. 112) vested in the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

"From 1858 to 1863 the Documents of the Board of Supervisors were printed in one volume together with the Proceedings."—Bulletin, New York Public Library, Jan., 1901, p. 19.

"By the act passed April 15, 1857, entitled An act relating to the Board of Supervisors of the county of New York, provision was made for an entire separation of the fiscal affairs of the county from those of the city. It does not appear, however, that any effort was made to carry the law into effect until 1859. Prior to 1859 all the accounts and financial affairs of the county were kept in the same books that were used for the accounts of the corporation of the city."—Bulletin, New York Public Library, Feb., 1901, p. 51.
